

Dear people of God,

I'm often told I don't preach enough on certain subjects, the supposed "good old topics." Examples include comments like these: "The Church never talks about sin anymore." "Why don't we hear more about the Right to Life?" "What ever happened to hell?"

The problem is that the homily has to be about the readings. I'm always amazed at watching television evangelists who will read something from Scripture and then preach on some other text. It happens at Sunday services too: a preacher will read from the common lectionary (the same readings we use which follow a schematic to give us exposure to the entire New Testament and complimentary Old Testament readings) but then take up some other text on which to preach. In Catholic preaching we're not supposed to do that – the Church gives us a sequential series of readings which form a pattern or common insight into God's love and that's what we're expected to preach on.

The texts for Sundays don't often coincide with events or celebrations going on around us; because the texts are in sequence, beginning with the early chapters of a gospel and moving on toward the latter chapters, they don't cherry pick topics for the homily. Rather, the homily should give us two distinct points to ponder throughout the week: (1) the overall themes of the gospel should stand out behind the weekly lection. Remember, there are three gospels featured in the Sunday cycle: Matthew in Cycle A, Mark in Cycle B and Luke in Cycle C with John being inserted here and there for some specific event.

The themes give us an overall message revealed in the four gospels: Jesus alone dies on the cross (Mark); fulfilling all of the Old testament prophesies (Matthew) and beginning a new Covenant in Christ (Luke) because God loves us (John). (2) We ought to hear some specific insight on today's world.

In the era of Bishop Altar (1939-1950), he wrote all the homilies and sent them to the priests who then preached the same thing in every parish so that the teaching of the Bishop would be proclaimed everywhere. Today we're on our own with some occasional input on ideas for homilies from the Bishop. Each priest is supposed to be aware of the gospel's thematic foundation and then focus on that theme from the Sunday Gospel using the other two readings to amplify the message. If any of those "good old" topics is in the reading, then it gets preached, but most of the time none of them are there so the homily will be on some other important topic the Gospels themselves believe we ought to hear.

Very often the topics we used to hear are proclaimed in the daily readings which is why we have daily Mass which we urge people to attend. We are also fortunate to have access to FORMED and to a small library in the back of the church for those who wish to pursue their interest in neglected topics either to expand their knowledge, nurture their faith formation, or inspire their meditation.

Msgr. Chris

The Celebration of Sacraments

Infant Baptism: The Sacrament of Baptism is regularly celebrated on Sunday during or after the Eucharistic Liturgy. Registered parishioners are asked to arrange for the Baptismal Preparation Class and the Liturgical Celebration by calling the Parish Office.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults: RCIA is the process of growing in your faith and love of God. Weekly gatherings take place from September until Easter. If you are interested in learning about Catholicism and joining us please call Deacon Tom at the rectory.

Penance: The Sacrament of Penance is celebrated at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday at IC, 9:30 a.m. at HSP and 10:30 a.m. IC every Sunday or by appointment.

Matrimony: Anyone planning to be married must contact the parish at least six months in advance. The exact date and time of your wedding should not be determined until after consultation with a priest or deacon. If either party has previously been civilly or religiously married, the Presider is not permitted to set a date for the wedding without resolving the previous marriage.

Pastoral Care of the Sick: When a parishioner is admitted to the hospital, nursing home, or confined to home because of age or infirmity, please call the Parish Office. Parishioners are ready to visit and to bring Holy Communion. When one is seriously ill, the healing Presence of the Lord should be requested in the Sacrament of the Sick.

In the event that you are in need of a priest or deacon and there is no one in the office: Please try the emergency number at 419-243-6031 or call Deacon Tom on his cell phone at 419-984-0082 and leave a message with your phone number and he will return your call as soon as possible.

Welcome Visitors

We would like to welcome our visitors to Historic St. Patrick. If you are interested in becoming a parishioner, please call the parish office at 419-243-6452, ext. 3 or fill out the registration forms in the back of church or on the web-site and return to the parish office.

Fall Bible Studies

Join us Tuesdays, September 6-
October 25 (6:30-8) when we study
Hebrews: The New and Eternal Covenant.

Did you know that the book of Hebrews is like a little Catechism? It is steeped in rich truths that are foundational to our Catholic Faith. (Cost for workbook: $29.95)

Speaking of the Catechism.... Wednesdays, September 7-October 26 (6:30-8) we will study The Catechism of the Catholic Church. Real+True has created a way to share and explain the Catechism in a beautiful, captivating, and relevant format. (Cost: Free)

Both studies are inside our beautiful church. field trip Contact Martha at martha.farrell15@gmail.com to register or for more information.
