Dear People of God,

I undertook to discuss the three vocations recognized by the Church last week and want to continue that subject briefly today. Vocations are means of relating which help make people holy and thereby assist in ordering the world toward peace, justice and domestic tranquility. They are a way of life which moderates how we behave with others. On the other hand, there are the avocations to which each of us gives his or her attention. Avocations are what we do so that we can behave in accord with the expectations of our vocation. Our avocation is based on talent, interest and education and is the means of earning a living; consider as examples machinists, authors, astronauts, lawyers, baseball players, waitresses, teachers, teamsters, doctors, journalists, golfers and the list goes on. All of these are add ons to our primary vocation so would have behaviors which might be different for a married lawyer than for a single lawyer, different for a married golfer than for a single golfer and so on. In general, we are supposed to go and perform our avocation with the mindset of our vocation.

Last week I provided a rather superficial discussion of being single and being married. In our lifetime we all experience the vocation of being single. It begins when we're conceived and lasts 'til we decide we want to get into another vocation and for the married may well return as a later-in-life vocation again. Each of the three vocations is a means of becoming "holy as the Father is holy," so we ought to take them seriously, learn their expected behaviors and act accordingly.

The smallest vocation in terms of numbers are those who have dedicated their lives to the service of God and God's Church, the so-called religious vocations. There are two types of vocations here, those who take vows in a religious order and promise to live according to the precepts of that order, and those who are ordained which includes the bishop, his priests and his deacons.

Religious Orders are groups of like-minded people who share a spiritual journey around a particular charism or value which inspires the group's spirituality and ministry.

The lives of the members are organized around a "rule" or constitution which describes the essential character of the Order and its principal motivation to serve God's people.

Most Catholic religious orders will ask the members to live in relationship to the world via the Evangelical Counsels (Good News Guidance): Obedience to the Rule, celibate chastity and poverty (which means giving up control over personal wealth, not destitution). A few ask for a fourth vow, stability which means they will remain in the same place under the rule of the superior of that place. We're all familiar with some of these Orders here in Toledo: Oblates of St. Francis de Sales, Sylvania Franciscans, Mercy Sisters, Franciscans at Carey, Ursuline Sisters, Visitation Sisters, Tiffin Franciscans, Notre Dame Sisters and Dominican Sisters.

Ordained Ministry is what I suspect most of us think of when we hear "vocations." The actual only one ordained minister who has the fullness of the clerical priesthood is the Bishop. Priests are ordained to assist the bishop and deacons are ordained to the service of the people of God. Both priests and deacons are instruments or extensions of the bishop. The Bishop is the successor to the Apostles and as such is the here-and-now presence of the immediate disciples of Jesus. You can find out on the internet how the Apostolic Succession of our bishop is traced back to one of the Apostles. Bishops are priests who are especially consecrated to take up the shepherding of a diocese or some other important aspect of the Church. The bishop's priests are ordained to take up shepherding a part of the bishop's diocese, usually a parish or some office of the diocese. Deacons are more often ordained having already been actively involved in the life and ministry of the parish.

Regardless of the level of orders, the bishop, priest and deacon are all supposed to relate to the world around them from the perspective of their ordained life. They make promises of obedience and celibate chastity. They often play a key role in our journey to the Kingdom.

Msgr. Chris

The Celebration of Sacraments

Infant Baptism: The Sacrament of Baptism is regularly celebrated on Sunday during or after the Eucharistic Liturgy. Registered parishioners are asked to arrange for the Baptismal Preparation Class and the Liturgical Celebration by calling the Parish Office.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults: RCIA is the process of growing in your faith and love of God. Weekly gatherings take place from September until Easter. If you are interested in learning about Catholicism and joining us please call Deacon Tom at the rectory.

Penance: The Sacrament of Penance is celebrated at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday at IC, 9:30 a.m. at HSP and 10:30 a.m. IC every Sunday or by appointment.

Matrimony: Anyone planning to be married must contact the parish at least six months in advance. The exact date and time of your wedding should not be determined until after consultation with a priest or deacon. If either party has previously been civilly or religiously married, the Presider is not permitted to set a date for the wedding without resolving the previous marriage.

Pastoral Care of the Sick: When a parishioner is admitted to the hospital, nursing home, or confined to home because of age or infirmity, please call the Parish Office. Parishioners are ready to visit and to bring Holy Communion. When one is seriously ill, the healing Presence of the Lord should be requested in the Sacrament of the Sick.

In the event that you are in need of a priest or deacon and there is no one in the office: Please try the emergency number at 419-243-6031 and leave a message with your phone number and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

Welcome Visitors

We would like to welcome our visitors to Historic St. Patrick. If you are interested in becoming a parishioner, please call the parish office at 419-243-6452, ext. 3 or fill out the registration forms in the back of church or on the web-site and return to the parish office.

Health News for July 23, 2023

Summer Sports Safety and Injury Prevention Tips: Sun Safety

- The best line of defense is covering up. Put on hats, sunglasses and SPF-rated clothing.
- Stay in the shade whenever possible, and limit sun exposure during peak-intensity hours (between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.).
- Use a sunscreen with an SPF of 15 or greater that protects against UVB and UVA rays, and apply it both on sunny and cloudy days.
- Reapply sunscreen every two hours or after swimming or sweating. Use extra caution near water and sand as they reflect UV rays and may result in a quicker sunburn.
